

KORE.AI COMPETITIVE INTELLIGENCE

Competitive Signal Report

Topic: Enterprise agentic AI & contact-center AI (CCAI) · Window: last 72h · Sunday, 23 August 2026 · 08:34 IST
Prepared by Kore.ai Competitive Intelligence

Bottom line: Competitors are pushing their agentic AI narratives, but evidence of partner revenue struggles (Salesforce) highlight opportunities for Kore.ai's proven, unified platform. The market continues to grapple with AI complexity and cost predictability, areas where Kore.ai's deterministic ABL and clear TCO models offer a distinct advantage.

Salesforce Agentforce Partners See Revenue Struggles

WHAT HAPPENED
Salesforce partners are reportedly not seeing meaningful revenue from the Agentforce AI platform, according to a report from The Register (2026-08-21) The Register. WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
This signal validates Kore.ai's positioning that a platform's success hinges on its ability to drive tangible business outcomes for partners and customers, not just feature releases. We can highlight our proven track record of enabling partner success and customer ROI.

ServiceNow Expands AI Integration Amidst Partnership Growth

WHAT HAPPENED
Tech Mahindra is expanding its partnership with ServiceNow to accelerate enterprise AI adoption, as reported by Portal ERP (2026-08-22) Portal ERP. WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
While ServiceNow focuses on expanding its ecosystem, this highlights the ongoing complexity of integrating disparate AI solutions. Kore.ai's unified, agentic platform offers a simpler, more integrated approach compared to stitching together multiple vendor solutions, allowing for faster time-to-value and reduced operational overhead.

PolyAI Integrates with Epic for Scaled Deployment

WHAT HAPPENED
PolyAI has launched a direct integration with Epic, with PDS Health being one of the first to deploy at scale, as noted by AOL.com (2026-08-21) AOL.COM. WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
This move by PolyAI targets specific vertical integrations. Kore.ai's strength lies in its broad, out-of-the-box integration capabilities across numerous enterprise systems and its pre-built vertical applications, offering a more comprehensive and adaptable solution for diverse enterprise needs beyond a single EHR system.
