

KORE.AI COMPETITIVE INTELLIGENCE

Competitive Signal Report

Topic: Enterprise agentic AI & contact-center AI (CCAI) · Window: last 72h · Thursday, 09 July 2026 · 11:37 IST
Prepared by Kore.ai Competitive Intelligence

Bottom line: Competitors are pushing AI agent capabilities, but significant gaps remain in pricing predictability, true omnichannel depth, and independent validation, creating clear openings for Kore.ai's proven platform. Salesforce's Agentforce faces continued analyst scrutiny, while Five9 grapples with its seat-based model's vulnerability to AI deflection, both underscoring the value of Kore.ai's deterministic, outcome-based approach.

Salesforce Agentforce Faces Analyst Doubt

WHAT HAPPENED
An analyst downgrade for Salesforce's CRM stock cited little proof of Agentforce gaining traction, alongside a report highlighting its latest release aimed at transforming commerce with AI agents. (2026-07-09) TradingView

WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
This reinforces Kore.ai's advantage in demonstrable, analyst-validated CX AI leadership, contrasting with Agentforce's ongoing struggle for market traction and independent proof.

Five9 Grapples with Seat-Model AI Vulnerability

WHAT HAPPENED
Five9 shares saw significant movement amid reports of its AI revenue growth, but also highlighted analyst concerns that AI continues to impact primarily seat-based models like Five9's. (2026-07-07) TradingView

WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
Kore.ai's outcome-based and deterministic AI agent approach directly counters the inherent risk and TCO unpredictability of seat-based models like Five9's, especially as AI deflection scales.

Glean Introduces File Agents, Expanding Model Choice

WHAT HAPPENED
Glean announced support for NVIDIA Nemotron 3 Ultra, expanding model choice for cost-effective enterprise AI and introducing "File Agents" that go beyond read-only RAG. (2026-07-07) aol.com

WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
While Glean focuses on internal knowledge management, Kore.ai's ABL and multi-model routing offer a more robust, governed, and CX-specific approach to agentic AI, ensuring reliability and deterministic outcomes across diverse enterprise needs.

AT A GLANCE

Signal priority table

Competitor	Move (dated)	Threat	Kore.ai counter
Salesforce Agentforce	(2026-07-09) Analyst downgrade and lack of traction proof - TradingView	High	Demonstrable CX AI leadership and analyst validation vs. hype.

Five9	(2026-07-07) Analyst concerns on seat-based model vulnerability to AI - TradingView	High	Outcome-based, deterministic AI vs. seat-model risk and TCO unpredictability.
Glean	(2026-07-07) Introduction of File Agents and expanded model support - aol.com	Low	CX-specific, governed AI platform vs. internal knowledge management focus.

ON THE RADAR

Watch for

- Salesforce's continued efforts to prove Agentforce's CX value proposition amidst analyst skepticism.
- NICE (Cognigy)'s integration progress and roadmap clarity post-acquisition.
- Cresta's adoption of its new "Conductor" developer-native agent build environment.

SO WHAT — DO THIS NOW

Recommended actions

- Emphasize Kore.ai's analyst-validated leadership in Conversational AI for Customer Service (Gartner, Forrester) as a key differentiator against competitors lacking this proof.
- Highlight Kore.ai's deterministic execution and compile-time validation (ABL) as a critical advantage over competitors whose prompt-based or less-governed approaches risk production failures and auditability issues.
- Arm sales with messaging that contrasts Kore.ai's predictable, outcome-based TCO against the consumption-based pricing and seat-model vulnerabilities of competitors like Salesforce and Five9.
- Continue to monitor and articulate the value of Kore.ai's true omnichannel capabilities against voice-first or digital-only solutions.
