

KORE.AI COMPETITIVE INTELLIGENCE

Competitive Signal Report

Topic: Enterprise agentic AI & contact-center AI (CCAI) · Window: last 72h · Thursday, 09 July 2026 · 21:59 IST
Prepared by Kore.ai Competitive Intelligence

Bottom line: Competitors are doubling down on AI agent capabilities and platform integration, but gaps remain in true omnichannel voice, deterministic governance, and predictable TCO, creating clear openings for Kore.ai's validated, full-stack platform.

WHAT MATTERS THIS RUN

Three signals that matter

Cresta's Training Simulator & Deployment Focus

WHAT HAPPENED
Cresta launched a new Training Simulator using AI agents to dynamically train human agents and published an article targeting the contact center AI deployment gap. PR Newswire, CX Today WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
Cresta is emphasizing agent enablement and addressing deployment friction, but their focus remains on the agent-assist layer. Kore.ai's ABL offers compile-time validation and deterministic execution, directly countering the "prompt-plus-custom-code" build surfaces broken handoffs that emerge in production, a key gap for competitors.

Genesys Highlights AI Usage Amidst Deployment Challenges

WHAT HAPPENED
Genesys published insights on how contact centers use AI and an article discussing the challenges of enterprise AI deployment post-launch. No Jitter, No Jitter WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
Genesys acknowledges deployment challenges, a direct validation of Kore.ai's ABL advantage in compile-time validation and deterministic execution. Their AI token model also presents TCO unpredictability, a stark contrast to Kore.ai's per-agent/intent/tool cost attribution and predictable pricing.

ServiceNow's Resilience in the AI Agent Era

WHAT HAPPENED
ServiceNow's financial performance is defying expectations of being disrupted by AI agents, with strong numbers indicating continued SaaS strength. AOL.com, Ad-hoc-news.de WHAT IT MEANS FOR KORE.AI
ServiceNow's continued strength, particularly with their AI Agent Platform, highlights the market's demand for integrated, enterprise-grade AI solutions. Kore.ai's position as a Leader in Gartner's Conversational AI MQ and Forrester's CAI Wave for Customer Service, alongside its comprehensive platform and proven ABL, directly counters ServiceNow's ITSM-centric approach and its reliance on third-party voice solutions.

AT A GLANCE

Signal priority table

Competitor	Move (dated)	Threat	Kore.ai counter
------------	--------------	--------	-----------------

Cresta	(2026-07-09) Launches Training Simulator & targets deployment gap - PR Newswire	Med	Compile-time validation vs. production failures
Genesys	(2026-07-09) Highlights AI usage & deployment challenges - No Jitter	Med	Predictable TCO vs. AI token overages
ServiceNow Agent Platform	(2026-07-09) Strong financial performance defies AI disruption narrative - AOL.com	Low	Analyst-validated CX platform vs. ITSM-centric

ON THE RADAR

Watch for

- Cresta's continued emphasis on agent training and deployment solutions.
- Genesys's evolving narrative around AI adoption and its potential impact on TCO.
- ServiceNow's continued integration of Moveworks and its impact on their agentic AI strategy.

SO WHAT — DO THIS NOW

Recommended actions

- Emphasize Kore.ai's compile-time validation and deterministic execution in sales conversations, directly addressing the production failures and unpredictability highlighted by Genesys and Cresta.
- Reinforce Kore.ai's Leader placement in Gartner Conversational AI and Forrester CAI for Customer Service to counter ServiceNow's ITSM-centric positioning and highlight our purpose-built CX platform.
- Highlight Kore.ai's predictable cost attribution (per-agent/intent/tool) versus the AI token overage risks and opaque pricing models of competitors like Genesys.
- Leverage the "AI Agent Orchestration" narrative by showcasing Kore.ai's ABL as the robust, governed foundation for complex agentic workflows, contrasting with competitors' more fragmented or prompt-dependent approaches.
